Homecoming 2019 | Sat, Nov. 16

CSUF Students, Alumni, Faculty/Staff, and Community, it's time to show your Titan Pride! You are cordially invited to Homecoming 2019, a pre-game festival starting at 5 p.m. Connect with your CSUF community to cheer on our Titans. This year's Homecoming Festival will include games and activities, music, the In-N-Out truck, and a beer garden featuring alumni-owned Bootlegger's Brewery. Join us for this family friendly event and show your Titan pride.

Share Your Road

Everyone has a story about how they got to where they are today — and every story holds lessons. That's why CSUF is collaborating with the career experts at Roadtrip Nation to create a community where CSUF alumni can share their stories with current and prospective students to show what Titans can accomplish when they put their mind to it. Share the steps you've taken to get where you are today, and help others in the CSUF community find their way.

Start Up Central

Victor Macias '09 and business partner Kristoffer Quiaoit of Nui Foods LLC, the keto-friendly cookie enterprise founded in 2016, reflects on their success with the assistance of the Mihaylo College of Business and Economics Center for Entrepreneurship at CSUF. The center supports student and community startups and fuels innovation in Orange County.

Gear Up Event Connects Students to Alumni Association

Students filled the Golleher Alumni House to learn how they can be successful in their future endeavors. The CSUF Alumni Association, WHW, Career Center, and Tuffy's Basic Needs co-hosted the “Gear Up” event to connect alumni to the current student body by offering resources the students needed. “This event was more than just a resource fair for student’s education,” said Jordan Poblete, CSUF Alumni Association board member and vice president of Student Outreach.
Cal State Fullerton Baseball Represented in MLB Playoffs

The Cal State Fullerton baseball program is well represented as the MLB playoffs started this week. There are currently 11 players in the MLB who are Fullerton alumni, and six of them will be playing in the postseason. The teams that will be represented by the Titans in the postseason are: the Los Angeles Dodgers, Oakland Athletics, Houston Astros and the Washington Nationals.

Titans in the Spotlight

Alumni

Christopher J. Job ’01

Christopher, a bass-baritone who has performed with the L.A. Philharmonic, the Philadelphia Orchestra and The Metropolitan Opera and been featured in six of the Met's “Live in HD” broadcasts recently credited having the right instructors during his time at CSUF. “One thing that stands out to me is that from choral to operatic studies, the faculty are always teaching you the little things that add up to ‘how to be a professional,” Job said. “I often think about these things when I step into a rehearsal room or any professional situation.” Job is a part of CSUF's legacy of talented singers turned successful opera singers.

Jessica Lombardo

Jessica, a CSUF senior majoring in English, comparative literature and linguistics has been selected as a California State University Sally Casanova Pre-Doctoral Scholar. Lombardo is currently a CSUF McNair Scholar and has been studying narco culture. Her family came from Sinaloa, the state in Mexico from which came ‘El Chapo’ — Joaquín Guzmán Loera. “I grew up hearing about the cartels,” says Jessica Lombardo, “I was always interested in the differences in how narcos are portrayed here versus there.” As a Casanova scholar Lombardo will receive a $3,000 scholarship and be offered opportunities to explore and prepare for a doctoral program.
