Congratulations Class of 2020

Help us celebrate the Class of 2020 during a virtual celebration on Saturday, June 13. Tune in that day to meet the grads through a virtual yearbook and hear their names announced. How can you help celebrate that week?

1. Decorate your vehicle! Display your Titan Pride in your city and let our grads know you're celebrating them.

2. Decorate your front yard with Titan Pride and show the Class of 2020 some love.
3. Send us a short 20-second congratulatory video for the Class of 2020. Include your name, class year, and a very brief message. Email your video submission to alumniengagement@fullerton.edu.

Theater Pushes Pause, but Alumna Keeps on Dancing

Emma Nossal '17 is not letting closed theaters stop her from promoting the arts. Over the last few weeks, Nossal, 25, has been teaching tap and jazz classes from her Rancho Peñasquitos home. She streams beginner lessons on Moonlight Amphitheatre's social media channels and teaches various levels as well as privates through her personal Facebook page and Zoom.

‘Cooking With Titans’ brings campus community together — one recipe at a time

When Jessica Rowland, program specialist for CSUF Alumni Engagement, was looking for a project that would bring stay-at-home Titans together, she settled on one of her own passions: cooking.

“The idea for Cooking with a Titan came from my love of baking and sharing my fun recipes with others,” said Rowland, who loves to cook, bake and barbecue. “Food is something that has always brought people together and in a time when we cannot be with one another I wanted to do something that would still make us feel connected.”

Volunteer participation for this series has been positively overwhelming. The Alumni team has concluded production for season one of this series but is taking submissions for season 2 set to launch in the Fall. If you’re interested in taking part in this series, please contact Jessica.

Become a Lifetime Member

As we navigate these unprecedented times we remind you that a great way to stay connected, while strengthening your Titan network, is to become a member of the CSUF Alumni Association.

Today, we serve nearly 300,000 Titan alumni worldwide. Consider joining the Alumni Association for a one-time rate of $149 (previously $500) and enjoy all the benefits of membership for life while giving back to CSUF students; a portion of your membership fee benefits student scholarships.

Titans in the Spotlight

Alumni

Laura Barrón-López '13

Alumna, Laura Barrón-López, reports for POLITICO and serves as an analyst for CNN. But before she landed those prestigious jobs she was a reporter for the Daily Titan. Within days of moving to campus, she walked into the Daily Titan newsroom as a freshman, introduced herself and convinced them to give her assignments.

Today you can see her on CNN or come accross her name in the byline of POLITICO. Laura Barrón-López is a national political reporter for POLITICO, covering House campaigns and the 2020 presidential race.

Recently, Barrón-López was selected as "Alum of the Year" by the CSUF Department of Politics, Administration and Justice. Congratulations on all your success Laura, thank you for demonstrating that Titans Reach Higher!

In this edition we would like to salute our Class of 2020 Student Alumni Ambassadors (SAA).

Alexis Flores '20

Graduating with a B.A. in Communications with a concentration in Public Relations, Alexis joined multiple clubs while on campus, took various leadership positions and gained valuable experience in his field of communications. His extensive involvement and leadership positions include Student Alumni Ambassador (SAA) which he served as the President, Public Relations Student Society of America (PRSSA) as a Professional Development Committee member, Titan Public Relations (TPR) as a Co-Executive Director, Latino Journalist (LJ) of CSUF as a Public Relation committee member, Latino Communication Institution (LCI) as the Newsletter Editor, Entertainment and Tourism Club (ETC), Titan Radio as his own Radio Host, Titan Communications reporter, Child Adolescent Studies Student Association (CASSA) as the Membership Manager, and last but not least Associated Student Inc (ASI) as a Communications Officer. His involvement on campus, his leadership and talent have earned him a spotlight with Titans of Promise; he is the recipient of the Department of Communications Professional Promise Award in the Public Relations concentration; and has earned the Outstanding Senior Award from the Alumni Association. Alexis' dream job is to be an acclaimed Talkshow Host and he is certainly on his way there!

Shania Griselda '20

Graduating with a B.A. in Business Administration, she chose finance as her concentration and enjoys learning about corporate finance and investments. Originally from Indonesia, she came to the United States to pursue her education. Her campus involvement included Student Alumni Ambassadors, where she served as the Programs Chair and the Finance Association. Shania also held a leadership position at her church and consistently earned a coveted spot on the Dean's List. Upon graduation, Shania will be pursuing a career as an investment banker with hopes of having her own business in the future.

Wendy Barillas '20

Graduating with a B.S. in Public Health with a concentration on Global Health, Wendy has been a part of many on-campus organizations. Her involvements included the Student Alumni Ambassadors, Substance Abuse Awareness Prevention Student Association, Health Science Honors Society, Hermanas Unidas, as well as having held various leadership positions within Associated Students Inc. and Camp Titan (ASI's philanthropy). Wendy's dream job is to work with Doctors Without Borders as a Primary Care Family Physician.
